

Coaching Skills For Managers

This 1 day course is for people who want to use coaching as a way to develop and motivate the people who work for them.

Coaching involves advanced communication skills, such as questioning, listening and building rapport. It also involves goal setting and giving feedback.

All these skills will be covered in depth during this course.