

Making The Most Of Meetings

This 1 day course is ideal for people who spend a lot of their time running meetings which they feel could be more productive.

It covers the practical side of meetings, such as preparing agendas, agreeing objectives and managing discussions. It also covers the 'people' aspect, such as how to avoid or manage conflict, how to encourage contributions and how to deal with different types of personalities.