

Managing And Motivating People

This 1 day course is ideal for new Managers or existing ones who want to be more effective and productive.

It covers the 'people skills' needed to be a successful manager and includes tips on how to motivate and develop the people who work for you, how to adapt your style to suit different people and situations and how to behave in a way which commands respect from others.